A Spiritual Meditation for the 19th Sunday in Ordinary Time - Year C

By faith, we can trust God to provide for us. Our sacred scripture is filled with role models of what it means to have faith. Moreover, faith is a gift from God who provides for us, just as he promised to Abraham, our father in faith, the Israelites, and the disciples. To this end, what they hoped for was realized, and their faith/trust deepened.

Today's readings addressed the impact of placing our trust in God, even when we don't immediately see the results of our actions. As God was faithful to his people in the past, it follows that we can trust that the Lord will surely bless His people in the present as well. We can always be ready so that our waiting will not be in vain. Through the power of prayer, we are the blessed people whom the Lord has chosen to be his own.

The Letter to the Hebrews is an elegant presentation of the powerful meaning of faith - especially Chapter 11. Faith is not merely an intellectual endeavor. Human logic alone cannot bring us to the "leap of faith." Rather, faith is an act of trust. Colossians recommends leaving behind earthly things. One way to do this is to seek daily humility, so that we might see things from God's point of view.

Finally, while work is an important component of life's journey, so is the pursuit of faith. "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (cf Matthew 5,3). The things we acquire through labor, to whom do they ultimately belong?

Nota Bene: Friday, 15 August. The Assumption, 2025, is a Holy Day of Obligation to attend Mass.
